Legislation

Part of Modern Slavery Human Trafficking Unit's work relates to the National Referral Mechanism or NRM.

This was introduced in 2009 and applies across the UK.

The NRM is used to identify victims of human trafficking or modern slavery and ensure they receive the appropriate support. The NRM is also a mechanism through which data is collected about victims of modern slavery and human trafficking.

National Referral Mechanism in numbers from the 5145 referrals in 2017

Britons	820	Chinese	293
Albanians	777	Nigerians	264
Vietnamese	739	Romanians	259

35% increase on 2016 referrals

Male	52%
Female	47%
Transgender	1%

Our online Modern Slavery training ensures you are aware of the different forms of slavery, the parts of the world and industries that are most vulnerable to slavery and what companies are expected to do about slavery in their organisation. It also outlines the anti-slavery legislation and policies in the UK including the Modern Slavery Act 2015, and the steps people can take to help combat slavery.

If you work for a business then awareness of slavery issues will help you contribute to your employer's initiatives to combat slavery. The training will enable you to spot signs of slavery and trafficking so you can report cases to the appropriate authority.

The approximate duration of this training is 1 hour.

PURCHASING FOR YOUR ORGANISATION

If you are buying for your organisation rather than for yourself, it is simple for you to add learners, assign training and print certificates. You will have a dashboard to monitor learner progress and attainment.

Our training licences don't expire and are only assigned to a learner the first time they launch the training. Substantial discounts are applied to bulk purchases and annual licences are also available.

The course has been certified by the CPD Certification Service.

The assessment is generated from question banks so that the questions change each time a candidate takes the assessment – making the training suitable for initial and refresher training.

There is no limit on the number of attempts at the assessment and informative feedback is given so candidates can learn from their incorrect responses. A certificate, with the CPD logo, is available for download on successful completion of the assessment.
