Contracting Legionnaires' Disease

Page 5 of 10

The symptoms of Legionnaires' disease, Pontiac fever and Lochgillhead fever are all similar to the symptoms of very severe flu and include high fever, chills, headache and muscle pain. Patients may also develop a dry cough and most suffer breathing difficulties. About half become confused or delirious.

The incubation period for Legionnaires' disease is between 2 and 10 days, but more usually 3 to 6 days.

Our Legionella Awareness online training course aims to ensure employers, managers and those with responsibility for the control of premises, understand what legionella is and what their legal duties are. It also ensures employees are aware of the risk posed by legionella and the measures taken to comply with UK health and safety legislation.

This training course is suitable for employers, the self-employed, landlords and letting agents.

The approximate duration of this training is 1 hour and 30 minutes.

PURCHASING FOR YOUR ORGANISATION

If you are buying for your organisation rather than for yourself, it is simple for you to add learners, assign training and print certificates. You will have a dashboard to monitor learner progress.

Our training licences don't expire and are only assigned to a learner when they launch the training. Substantial discounts are available for bulk purchases.

Learners are able to download their certificate on successful completion of the online assessment.
